Greetings,

One of the greatest joys in life is the realization of a dream; one that has been cherished, nurtured and pursued in faith. I have begun a new chapter in my life – one that encompasses my personal, professional and creative vision – the realization of my dream. I have relocated to the East Bay Area of California to pursue my passion for writing. I have returned to my home and am reconnecting with my roots.

When I arrived in High Point I had no inkling of the adventure that awaited me. On July 1st I left North Carolina having accomplished what was mine to do: acknowledge my calling to become an author and writer and return home. The momentum continues and I invite you to share this journey with me. Holly Tree Publications, LLP is now located in Hayward, CA, a mid-sized community approximately ten miles south of Oakland, my hometown.

Do you have a great idea that you want to put in writing? We're ready to assist you with all your commercial writing needs. Freelance writing can be done from anywhere thanks to the tremendous innovations of modern technology. If you're looking for a good writer, look no further: Theresa Bennett-Wilkes at your service! Call me at (336) 847-4249 or send an email to info@alwaystheresa.com. I look forward to hearing from and working with you.

Always,

Theresa
